The Christmas season burst onto the stage in a glorious blaze of bling with the Interior Designer's panto, Jack and the Blingstalk. A fabulous festive evening of frivolous fun and fundraising for William Yeoward's Screw Cancer charity.

I am honoured to be a judge once again for the Boat International Design Awards 2019, which meant for a busy time at Monaco Yacht Show, viewing spectacular new builds....but nothing quite matches being part of a groundbreaking bespoke project. The Gosling team had the pleasure (& pain!) of designing a carbon fibre furniture collection for Feadship's latest 93 metre yacht, the iconic Lady S. The state of the art collection pushed engineering boundaries, but we are very proud of the end result and confident Gosling designer, Phil Sturdy has lived up to his reputation as Mr Curve!

Tim's love of hidden architectural gems in London is well known and the opportunity to put his 'London Secrets' book into film was irresistible. Launched this month on IGTV, the first series focusses on and around Somerset House, the varnishing room and the York Watergate, where Tim reveals an exposé of the First Duke of Buckingham.

Exhibiting at Focus/19, Chelsea Harbour provided the perfect venue to showcase Gosling's range of interiors, furniture, rugs, fireplaces and the marine collection and to invite industry guests for a series of informal discussions on interior design conundrums. Thank you Samantha Todhunter, Sam Turner and Emily Todhunter.

Project Chateau continues to be a mix of "plaisir & douleur." The restoration requires hours of research into the historical techniques used to ensure the building is brought back to life in the most authentic way possible whilst navigating French building regulations.
